

CROOKED METHODS WERE USED

Probe Committee Strikes a Rich Lead in the Investigation

SENSATION IS PROMISED

Over $120,000 Worth of Supplies Purchased for State House in 17 Months.

Columbus, O., March 7.—Senator Sherman S. Denton of Champaign county and Representative Cyrus L. Winters of Erie county, members of the Beatty Graft Probe committee of the General Assembly, left their respective homes Saturday to meet in Detroit, Mich.

They will remain in that city until Monday evening in the hope of securing a confession from John H. Payne, a former employee of the Ruggles-Gale company of this city as to the crooked methods used in selling office supplies.

William E. Knoderer, another former employee of the same concern, left for Detroit to join them. The three will attempt to either have Payne tell what he knows or confirm what Knoderer has already related to the committee. Both Knoderer and Payne for a number of years were the local salesmen for the Ruggles-Gale company. They haunted the offices of the state house almost continually.

It is now positively known by the committee and to Attorney-General U. G. Denton and Attorney H. J. Booth, working with the committee, that there is more in the "commissions" allowed to certain purchasing agents for the state than was ever dreamed of.

The committee was to have met Friday and listened to the testimony to be given relative to "commissions" charged on the books of the Ruggles-Gale company against "the State Fire Marshal" during the administration of United States Marshal H. V. Davis. The meeting was suddenly called off. There was a reason, but it was kept quiet by the Attorney-General and Mr. Booth and the members of the committee.

It now develops that Mr. Booth was in conference with Mr. Knoderer on Wednesday evening until after 11 o'clock the following morning. With them was a stenographer. Knoderer was promised immunity by the committee, through Senator Richard A. Beatty, the chairman. This privilege was extended to him by Mr. Booth.

It was upon this condition that Knoderer informed him of the fact that he told everything. To confirm this he mentioned the name of John H. Payne. It is believed that Payne will talk. It is the duty of the members of the committee who went to Detroit coupled with the friendship of Knoderer, to have Payne lay bare the entire plan of methods of inducing the several purchasing agents to buy their wares.

When Payne left the city for Detroit, several years ago, reports concerning his dealings with the Ruggles-Gale company while in their employ were bruited about the city. They were of an extremely embarrassing nature. Friends of Payne got in touch with him. He was told of the talk, and immediately came to Columbus. He remained here for several days and openly challenged any one to file a single charge against him. The whole matter then exploded. The action of Payne in facing his accusers turned the story into another chapter.

It is understood that the conference between Messrs. Booth and Knoderer leads to this new step. If Payne will come back to Ohio and relate the facts as it is said he possesses, there will be a more sensational in the state graft equal to that of Mark Slater.

It is not confined to the State Fire Marshal's department, our inquiries to the Department of State and other offices as well. There are seven more bills for large amounts. The committee through the experience is unable to find them. That are to large amounts according to common sense which they were paid to Beatty. The several bills have turned out which look as if there were some dodging done. The committee in one of these bills Saturday.

PACKER ATTACKS BANKER

Knife Used by Jack Cudaby on Wealthy Kansas City Man

UNEXPECTED DISCOVERY

Upon Returning Home at Midnight — "Jack, Please Don't Do It" Pleaded Victim.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—With J. S. Lillis, president of the Western exchange bank in a serious condition in St. Mary's hospital and John P. Cudaby, son of Michael Cudaby, the millionaire banker, secreted in the home of a friend after attacking Lillis and being released on $100 bond, social and financial circles today are expecting sensational allegations to be made in the event Lillis' wounds should prove fatal.

Physicians at the hospital declared today the banker would probably recover but would be disfigured for life. He is suffering from severe cuts about the face, arms and legs, supposed to have been inflicted with a knife by Cudaby. Lillis was found in the parlor of the Cudaby home early Sunday. He was half nude and bleeding from numerous jagged wounds while Cudaby and his chauffeur stood over his prostrate form. Cudaby told the police Lillis had "ruined his home."

The police first knew of the trouble in the Cudaby home when an excited woman's voice on the telephone told the officers at a police station to hurry to the house as a man was being murdered. Policeman Underwood rushed to the house and found the three men in the parlor. Lillis was lying on the floor crying: "Don't do it back, please don't do it." Cudaby was in evening dress, his coat off, his sleeves rolled up and spattered with blood from his victim. Lillis was bound with ropes, half nude and bleeding from numerous cuts. It was declared today that Lillis had not made any charge against Cudaby and for that reason his bond had been made light.

Mrs. Cudaby issued a statement in which she said that stories that had been circulated regarding her were distorted and untrue.

"Time alone will bring out the real truth," she declared.

"In justice to me and my children don't believe a word that is being said."

The Cudaby family is one of the social leaders in Kansas City. Lillis is a bachelor 47, and also prominent. He has been intimate with the Cudaby family for years. It was reported a few months ago that Cudaby and Lillis had had a misunderstanding. Later

THOMAS C. PLATT.

PLATT IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Passes Away Suddenly at His Apartment in New York

WAS A NATIONAL FIGURE

Funeral Will Occur Wednesday at Owego, N. Y., Dead Senator's Birth Place.

New York, March 7.—Thomas Collier Platt, formerly United States senator from New York, and for many years a national figure in Republican politics, died at 3:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Abele, on West Eleventh street, from whom he had rented three rooms for the last four years. Mrs. Abele had been his nurse.

Dr. Paul Auterbridge, his physician, said last night the cause of death was chronic and acute bright's disease. The body was removed to the home of Frank H. Platt, his son, and will be taken Tuesday to Owego, N. Y., the senator's birthplace, where it will be buried. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at the Presbyterian church in Owego.

The end was startlingly sudden. An hour before the senator died his two sons, Frank and Edward, with their families, and his widowed son, Harry, with the latter's daughter, Charlotte, and son, Sherman, had left the house, after their usual Sunday visit. The senator said at that time he felt very well and thought he would read the Sunday papers. At 3 o'clock he was taken with a fainting spell and Dr. Auterbridge was hurriedly called. The family was notified and returned in haste. Mr. Platt recovered from his first lapse, but sank into unconsciousness again at 3:30 and died 15 minutes later. The relatives were all at the bedside.

Only last Wednesday Senator Platt was at his office down town. For several years he had been in feeble health and lately the use of his legs had almost deserted him, but his condition until Sunday was not looked upon as more serious than usual, although a physician called upon him daily. Thursday at breakfast the senator had a momentary fainting spell but rallied quickly. A year ago his feebleness was markedly accentuated and his life was despaired of for a period, but with remarkable vitality he recovered and went about his business as usual.

Dr. Auterbridge said last night that the vitality of his patient was truly unusual. In spite of his feebleness, he took an active interest in affairs and refused to neglect his business until the dictates of nature imposed a rest. He was out of bed at 7 o'clock every morning and always early at his office.

In "Twenty Years in Congress" James G. Blaine described Platt as "a business man of great personal popularity. He has an aptitude for public affairs and is a man of strong influence in his state. He is no debater, but has strong common sense and a quick judgment of men."

Yet with all his native judgment, wide experience and skill as an organizer, it became the fate of Platt to win remembrance more for his associations with others than for anything he did of his own initiative.

Twice in his life Platt was the center of the national stage, once when he resigned with Rose Comstock from the United States senate, and was instantly nicknamed "Mr. Trust" Platt, and once when he induced Theodore Roosevelt to run for vice president.

Passengers Barely Have Time to Escape From Staterooms—One Man Is Missing.

Portland, Me., March 7.—One life is believed to have been lost and half a score of passengers barely escaped death here early today when the Maine Steamship Company's big vessel, the Narragansett, was burned to the water's edge in Portland harbor. The Manhattan arrived from New York about daylight today and half an hour later the alarm of fire was sounded. Within a minute the flames, which started near the engine room, were sweeping the boat, and her passengers were awakened barely in time to flee from their staterooms with part of their personal belongings. Captain Pierce J. Lewis and eight of the vessel's crew of 25 men fought gallantly but in vain against the flames. One man, a Spaniard, is missing. He was last seen in the hold and is believed to have perished.

STRUCK FROM THE MEASURE

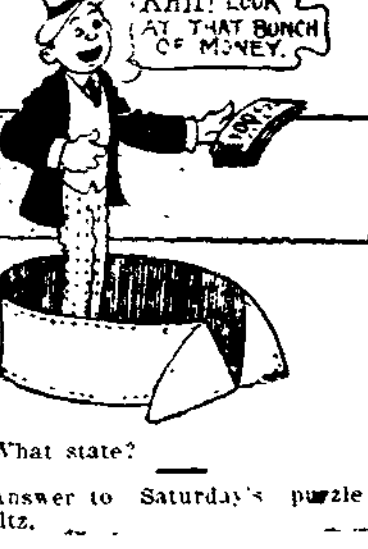

Washington, March 7.—In a vote of fifteen to one the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today struck from the administration proposed bill the provision relative to control by railroads of competing lines. Messages of this new class will be known as "night letter telegrams." They will be accepted at Postal telegraph offices over the counter or by telephone in the usual way. The Postal Telegraph Cable company couples the foregoing announcement with a repetition of the statement recently made by President Clarence H. On Friday evening the Delta Zetas were most delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Mary Devore in Day avenue. During the evening a delicious two course luncheon was served the members and guests, who were Misses Mary Galogly and Verne Bragg. POLICE COURT A BUSY PLACE MONDAY MORNING

A report to police headquarters Sunday that some foreigners in a near-by saloon on Jackson street were drunk and disorderly, caused Officers Burke and Swank to visit the place and make an inspection. When the policemen reached the place they heard singing and dancing, and entered to find a lot of men and women having a big time, such as they say they have in the "old country."

The policemen impressed on the proprietor the fact that the brand of entertainment furnished in far away Hungary didn't go in Newark, especially on Sunday, and after making a search for liquor which they failed to find, they ordered the place closed, and a sad procession filed through the doors.

Ed (Spade) Target was arrested Saturday afternoon by Officers Swank and Burke on the charge of being drunk and with insulting people on the street. Target resisted and it was necessary for the police to "work on him" after he was loaded into the patrol. This morning he was fined $10 and costs and committed.

John Murphy this morning filed an affidavit against "Baldy" Prior charging him with assaulting his young son. The police are looking for Prior.

Homer B. Loveberry the young Thornville fad who was arrested by Chief Zerkiebel and Officer Swank while trying to cash a check at the Klondike Saturday, will be given his hearing tomorrow. Chief Zerkiebel announced his intention this morning of filing an affidavit against him charging forgery. Loveberry protests his innocence.

Officer Glenn arrested Leslie George at 2:15 Sunday morning on a state warrant issued in Justice Holton's court. George was turned over to a constable from that court this morning.

Several drunks were arrested Saturday and Sunday and their fines ranged from $1 and costs to $5 and costs.

NOTED LECTURER TOMORROW NIGHT

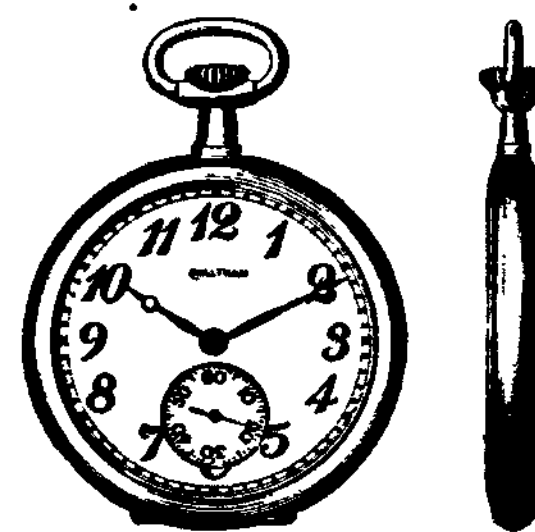

Lee Francis Lybarger will give his famous lecture "How to be Happy" in the High school auditorium Tuesday evening, March 15th, at 8.15 o'clock.

Mr. Lybarger has lectured in prominent cities and towns all over the United States, having returned recently from a tour to the Pacific coast. He talks often on political subjects and the Harrisburg, Pa., Star Independent says of him: "Lee Francis Lybarger, the scholar, scientist, orator, delivered one of the greatest political addresses ever heard in Harrisburg, and to an audience of fully 5,000 people. For nearly three hours he held his vast audience enraptured, while he poured volley after volley into the ranks of the opposition. Only the near approach of the midnight hour stopped the flow of boultis, facts, feelings. And such a voice! Such power and penetration! 'T was magnificent! It seemed to fill the whole city with its wondrous vibration."

Mr. Lybarger is donating this lecture to the people of the First Presbyterian church.

WALTHAM WATCHES

The Authentic American Watch

Everyone knows that Waltham Watches are good watches. When you buy a Waltham Watch buy only from a jeweler and buy one adjusted to temperature and position.

Do not buy a watch of a mail order house.

Jewelers are specialists who know how to regulate watches to your habit and occupation, how to oil them properly, how to detect any little disarrangement that may have occurred in transportation. A responsible jeweler who values his reputation will guarantee a Waltham Watch, and behind the jeweler's guarantee is that of the Waltham Watch Company.

When you buy a watch remember not only that Waltham Watches are the best, but that they were the first American Watches. Every watch-making device and invention of importance in use has originated in the Waltham Watch factory.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY

The Circle Magazine, in a recent issue, told of a man of forty, having ability that would make him valuable as a partner in a new enterprise, who was offered the opportunity if he could invest equally with 4 other men, all of his acquaintances. He did not own a dollar or a life insurance policy, and was in debt for living expenses, so could not raise the necessary one thousand dollars. Yet he had been earning a good salary. That man barely escaped success, for the company is now wealthy. Had he saved one dollar a week from the day he began work, he would have had fifteen hundred dollars in bank.

Better start a savings account and be ready when opportunity knocks at the door.

CORRUPTION YOUTH MUST PAY

Clemency is Recommended — Brain
Storm Defense Fails to Save
19-Year-Old Boy.

Coshington, March 7.—A jury in Judge Nicholas' court Saturday morning returned a verdict of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of clemency in the case of William J. Davis, aged 19, who murdered his father, Eli Davis, on Sunday, Sept. 26 last. The jury took 10 ballots.

The defendant, who is a swarthy, black-haired youth, has shown little interest in the proceedings of the trial and received the verdict stoically. C. M. Bible was foreman of the jury.

According to the testimony introduced in the trial, the elder Davis was intoxicated and quarreled with his family at the breakfast table. As he arose from the table and approached his wife, she is a threatening manner, the boy slipped up behind his father and split his skull with a hatchet. He hit him four or five times. The boy then left the room, but returned a few minutes later and finding his father still breathing, he took his pocketknife and plunged the blade into his father's heart half a dozen times. The boy made no attempt to escape after the crime.

The defense was that the boy was affected with a brainstorm or temporary insanity at the time of the murder, the crime also being held justified through the youth's defense of his mother.

THINKS WELL OF NEWARK

Lee Francis Lybarger, scholar, scientist and orator, who has been in nearly every city of the United States, was in Newark one day last summer, and after being shown some of the industries and seeing our homes, was very greatly impressed with the city. He has arranged to give a lecture free to the people of Newark and will pay his own traveling expenses from Central Pennsylvania, and donate his services to one of Newark's institutions, the First Presbyterian church. The lecture will be given in the high school March 15 at 8:15 p. m. His subject, "How to be Happy," is a philosophical study of the laws of happiness.

Now it is up to the people of Newark to give him a rousing reception. It is not often that appreciation of our city is shown in such a substantial way. Now let us show that we appreciate him.

MR. ELI HULL REPLIES TO ARTICLE ON CANAL BY MR. FLORY

Mr. Editor, I must confess some surprise when under the caption of "Would Abate Disease Breeding Nuisance" I recently read the article by my esteemed fellow townsman, Mr. J. A. Flory.

Nothing, it seems to me, is clearer than that the writer's medical advice have failed in their diagnosis of his case. It was probably not any of the poisonous bacteria, which he says infect the "old cesspool" but more likely a case of tape worm. The writer is not a lawyer but is sufficiently an M. D. to say that the tape worm in question is an enormous one with thirty feet front on the south side of the public square and two hundred feet long extending back to the old cess pool, The Ohio Canal.

I would like to offer a prescription for the cure of this tape worm and guarantee a cure if followed.

Here it is: Fill up the old canal at the city's expense and in the same way make of it a fine boulevard, pave it with brick, build a fine curb along it and in every way without expense to the abutting property make it one of the finest streets of the city from First street to the Racoon aqueduct. I will stake my reputation for medical skill on the assertion that this will cure this or any other similar case of tape worm. There are others similarly afflicted with tape worms, and I offer for the prescription without cost to the afflicted and with the same guaranty of cure.

But let us be a little serious about this matter. There are a few people living in this city who would sacrifice millions of dollars worth of the canal property that they might acquire a part of it for themselves. The state of Ohio still owns a navigable right-of-way from the dam across the North Fork near the city water plant power house to a point on the canal in the rear of the city prison, another from the dam in the rear of the State Encampment grounds to a point on the canal at the 11th street crossing and still another to the canal at a point near the Four-Mile Lock south of the city. The state also owns a site for a ship and great the corner of Church and Fifth streets and a dry dock she about a block west of the junction of Church and West Main streets on Union street. The state also owns the right to a slide slip between Second and Third streets.

But the argument does not end there. The state of Ohio has not given up its right of domain. Except for the right as vested in the general government the state still has a right to take possession of the lands originally granted to it for the use of a canal. More than that the state can take any other lands belonging to corporations or individuals as it may need the same for public utility.

Let some sensible spirited gentleman or group of every member of the great middle class, which most of all is interested in the preservation of this heritage, remember that the state of Ohio has not only spent the greater part of a million dollars to perfect a deep waterway from Cleveland to the slack water dams in the Muskingum river at Dresden, Dresden is only 20 miles from us. Is there a man outside of those moved by selfish interests who cannot see that we are missing some thing of benefit to be connected with that improvement? Is there a person living, who reads your paper who does not from a pleasure standpoint alone know what it means right now, to connect Buckeye Lake with the government improvements in the Muskingum river?

We are pleading for this canal for the middle classes. Once let the people of Licking county bring a pressure to bear which shall result in a navigable water connection of this city with Buckeye Lake and it will hardly be one year till everybody within the zone of the improvement will realize why it is that all of the states with canals are placing them in good shape and some are building new ones.

Mr. Editor, let me say in conclusion, that the state of Ohio owns canal property within the boundaries of Licking county worth at least $1,000,000 and almost half of this property is inside the corporate limits of Newark. Why should the state ignore the rights and interests of the public and sacrifice this property for the benefit of a few interested individuals?
